Rick Wormeli: the root of differentiation: responsive teaching. from Larry Ferlazzo's several ways to differentiate: http://blogs.edweek.org/teachers/classroom_qa_with_larry_ferlazzo/2012/01/response_ways_to_differentiate_instruction.html

Carol Tomlinson suggests that six principles guide what it means to teach up:

1. Accept that human differences are not only normal but also desirable.
2. Develop a growth mind-set.
3. Work to understand students' cultures, interests, needs, and perspectives.
4. Create a base of rigorous learning opportunities.
5. Understand that students come to the classroom with varied points of entry into a curriculum and move through it at different rates.
6. Create flexible classroom routines and procedures that attend to learner needs.
7. Be an analytical practitioner.
